PART 1: FREEDOM OF INFORMATION OVERVIEW

I am delighted to present the 2011-2012 Annual Report under the Freedom of Information Act 1982 (the Act), the last report to be presented by me as Minister responsible for the Act. With the recent commencement of the Freedom of Information Amendment (Freedom of Information Commissioner) Act 2012 future reports are now the responsibility of the independent Freedom of Information Commissioner.

Overview: 2011-2012

There was a 4.5 per cent increase in the number of Freedom of Information (FOI) applications received. There were 35,601 FOI requests received across government agencies. The majority of these were made by individual Victorians seeking access to documents about themselves. During the 2011-2012 year there were 32,300 decisions on access made and, of these, 97.3 per cent granted access either in full or in part.

Implementing integrity reforms: the Freedom of Information Commissioner

Since my last report, the Freedom of Information Amendment (Freedom of Information Commissioner) Act 2012 passed the Victorian Parliament and came into operation on 1 December 2012. The introduction of the Freedom of Information Commissioner by the Coalition Government represents the most significant change to Victoria's freedom of information regime in more than 30 years.

The Coalition Government was pleased to announce the appointment of Lynne Bertolini, a career public servant with more than 30 years experience across various portfolios, as the inaugural Commissioner. I am confident Lynne Bertolini will serve with distinction in this new role.

PART 2: FREEDOM OF INFORMATION IN VICTORIA

2.1 Government Bodies Covered by Freedom of Information (FOI)

The Act provides the right to apply for access to documents held by the wide range of State Government bodies listed in this report, including ministers, state government departments, local councils, most semi-government agencies and statutory authorities, public hospitals, universities, and TAFE colleges. In some instances it is also possible to seek access to documents relating to services outsourced by government agencies.

2.2 About FOI

An FOI request needs to be made in writing to the agency that holds the documents being requested.

The FOI Online website (www.foi.vic.gov.au) is an online resource which provides a range of information and resources about FOI. This includes request forms, contact details for agencies and general information relating to FOI, such as how to make requests, locating the right agencies, costs and review rights. It also provides for online requests to be made to any of the 11 government departments or Victoria Police. Freedom of Information Annual Reports are also available on the website.

2.3 About This Report

The statistical information contained in this report was collated from data provided to the Department of Justice (DOJ) from 981 State Government bodies subject to the Act. The statistical data was requested by DOJ and provided on a uniform basis by agencies, in accordance with the requirements of sections 64 and 65AA of the Act.

In addition to these agencies, the Department of Sustainability and Environment has advised on behalf of 1201 Committees of Management, listed separately at Appendix A2, that they had no FOI activity in 2011-2012.

FOI request data contained in this report relates to those requests that met the Act's definition of a request in the 2011-12 year. A request is defined as one made in accordance with section 17 of the Act. This may differ from how agencies report their FOI data in other contexts.

2.4 Requests, Internal Reviews and Appeals

Table 1 provides a summary of the total number of FOI requests, internal reviews and Victorian Civil and Administrative Tribunal (VCAT) appeals, since 1984-1985. The number of requests received in each year is represented graphically in Chart 1.

Requests reported in 2011-2012 increased 4.5 per cent on the figure for the previous year to 35,601.

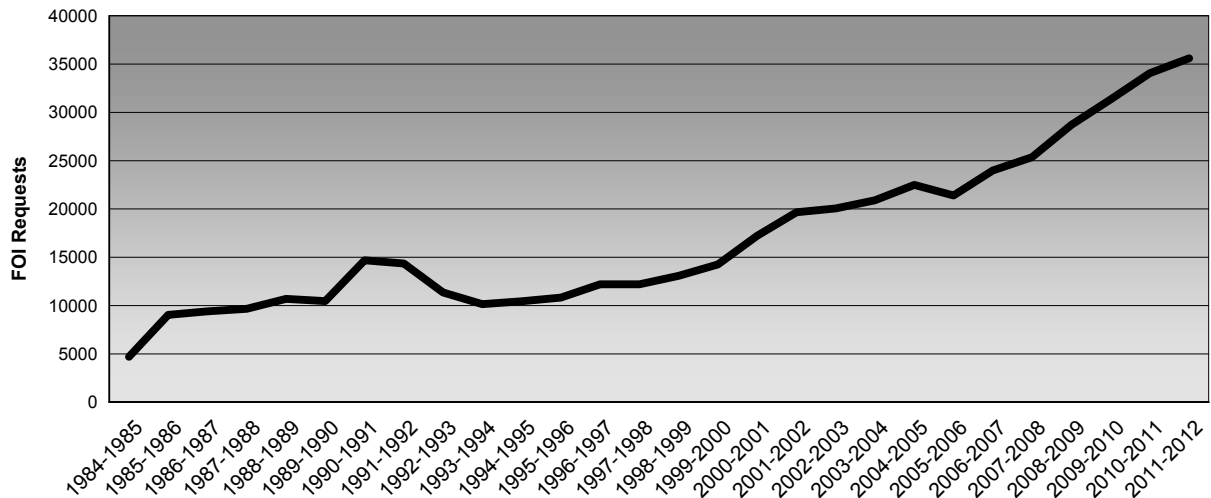

Internal reviews increased to 464 which was 1.3 per cent of the number of FOI requests received. The number of internal reviews represents 6 per cent of decisions made to deny access in full or in part. Original decisions were confirmed in 70.7 per cent of internal reviews.

There were 159 VCAT appeals lodged in 2011-2012. A total of 57 cases were decided by VCAT. Agency decisions were fully confirmed in 87.7 per cent of cases. VCAT partially upheld agency decisions in 10.5 per cent of appeals decided. VCAT overturned one decision. Agencies also reported that 97 appeals were withdrawn.

2.5 Access Decisions on Requests

The level of full access to documents as a proportion of all access decisions made in 2011-2012 was 76.11 per cent, with partial access 21.18 per cent. Applicants gained access to documents in 97.29 per cent of requests where access decisions were made. Access was denied in full in only 2.71 per cent of decisions.

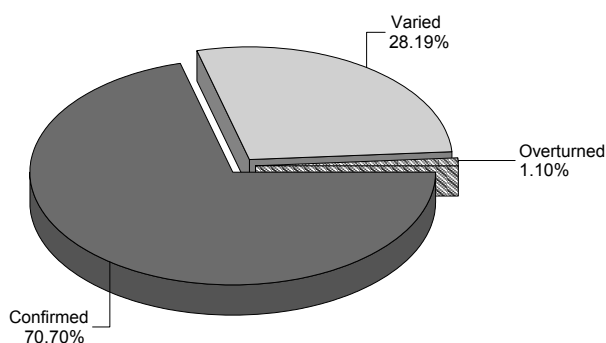

In 2011-2012, personal requests (for information mainly pertaining to the applicants themselves) represented 67 per cent of total requests received, while non-personal requests represented the remaining 33 per cent.

Charts 2 to 4 illustrate the outcomes of requests, reviews and appeals in 2011-2012.

Chart 2: Access Decisions on Requests (2011/2012)

Chart 3: Internal Review Decisions (2011/2012)

Chart 4: Decisions by VCAT (2011/2012)

Table 2: Access Decisions on FOI Requests

Decision	Year 2011/12	% of Access Decisions	Year 2010/2011	% of Access Decisions
Full Access	24,585	76.11	23,867	77.76
Part Access	6,841	21.18	6,126	19.96
Access Denied	874	2.71	700	2.28

Note: This table reflects access decisions made in 2011-2012. It does not include situations where a request was received and one of the following applied: the applicant did not proceed with the request; the request was made in 2011-2012 but had not been decided at the end of the reporting period; the agency did not hold the documents sought; or the agency and the applicant agreed on a form of access satisfactory to the applicant outside the FOI process.

2.6 Most Frequently Cited Exemptions

In 2011-2012 the five most frequently cited exemptions in original decisions on access were (in order of most used to least used):

- Section 33: the protection of an individual's personal affairs
- Section 30: internal working documents containing opinions, advice or recommendations of officials or ministers where it would not be in the public interest for those documents to be released
- Section 35: information obtained in confidence by government bodies
- Section 38: where a secrecy or confidentiality provision of an enactment other than the FOI Act applies to particular documents
- Section 31: law enforcement

Chart 5: Exemption Provisions Most Commonly Cited in Original Decisions in the Past Two Years

s.38 - Documents subject to secrecy provisions of other enactments	1,126	69	2
s.38A - Council documents	28	4	0

2.7 Fees and Charges for Requests

Costs associated with FOI comprise the application fee (fees) which was $24.40 in the 2011-2012 year and access charges (charges) for access related items such as searching for documents, copying and inspection supervision.

Had the fee been charged for each application, revenue from fees would have totalled $868,664.40. Fee revenue reported however was $640,982.54.

The statistics provided to DOJ indicate that, in this reporting year, fees were waived or reduced for approximately 26.2 per cent of applications. This is calculated by multiplying the application fee ($24.40) by the total number of applications (35,601).

2.8 'Top 30' Agencies

Table 4 lists the 30 agencies receiving the highest number of FOI requests. The 'Top 30' received 84.5 per cent of requests. Personal documents were requested in 70.8 per cent of these requests.

2.9 Disciplinary Action Taken in Relation to the Administration of the FOI Act

Agencies reported no disciplinary action in relation to the administration of the FOI Act.

2.10 Notices Issued Under Section 12 of the FOI Act

Agencies reported that no section 12 notices were served in 2011-2012.

2.11 Retrospective Access

Personal documents concerning an applicant are not subject to a time limit. The Act requires information to be collected on the practicability of extending the period of retrospective access to non-personal documents. Currently, non-personal documents are not subject to the Act if they were created prior to 1978 or, in the case of councils, 1989. As requests are seldom made for such documents, there appears little need to extend retrospective access.

2.12 Difficulties in Administering the FOI Act Related to Staffing and Costs

Staffing and cost related difficulties in administering the FOI Act were identified by only 6.6 per cent of agencies. This small number of agencies reported difficulties in managing unpredictable and erratic workloads.

Many smaller agencies do not have full time FOI officers. When several requests are received in a short period, agencies sometimes incur extra costs through the need to use external legal resources.

2.13 Reading Rooms Provided by Agencies

Almost 30 years after the commencement of the Act, the concept of the reading room has changed from a physical one to a digital one. A great amount of information is now made available by agencies concerning their agency structures, organisation, responsibilities and key publications on their websites. Nevertheless, 95 agencies, identified with an asterisk in Appendix A1, reported that they either have reading room facilities, can make similar facilities available if required or that they provide information through libraries.

2.14 Efforts Made by Agencies to Implement the Spirit and Intention of the FOI Act

The main response made by a number of agencies was that they tried as far as possible to release information outside of the FOI process.

A significant number of agencies indicated that they have policies in relation to releasing documents outside the provisions of the FOI Act.

2.15 Sources of FOI Requests

For the 11 departments and Victoria Police, the vast majority of requests (83 per cent) were made by the general public. The remainder were made by the media (12 per cent) and members of Parliament (5 per cent).

2.16 Performance

For the 11 departments and Victoria Police, the majority of requests were processed within statutory requirements. One quarter of requests were processed within 46 to 90 days and less than one fifth of requests in over 90 days.

PART 3: NOTES ON AGENCY STATISTICS

3.1 Requests

Appendix A1 reports the number of FOI requests received by agencies, classified as either personal or non-personal. The access outcomes are listed for all requests decided in 2011-2012, including those that were received during 2010-2011 and then decided in 2011-2012.

Appendix A2 lists 1,201 committees of management under the Department of Sustainability and Environment (DSE). While DSE has advised that none of these agencies reported any FOI activity, they are included here for completeness.

3.2 Internal Reviews

An applicant has a right to appeal a decision if access is not granted in full by an agency. Usually, this involves seeking an 'internal review', by writing to the principal officer of the agency.

Appendix B contains the outcomes of internal reviews that were received or finalised in 2011-2012. The outcomes refer to whether the original decisions made by FOI officers were confirmed, varied or overturned (full access granted).

3.3 Victorian Civil and Administrative Tribunal Appeals

An applicant has a right to appeal a decision of an agency or minister to the Victorian Civil and Administrative Tribunal (VCAT) if not satisfied with the decision.

Appendix C lists appeal outcomes for those agencies that made decisions which were subsequently appealed to VCAT. The outcomes listed are for all appeals lodged or decided in 2011-2012. VCAT utilises alternative dispute resolution processes, through which cases may be resolved prior to a hearing. If this occurs, the appeal may be withdrawn as appropriate.

3.4 Exemptions

Applicants have a right to access documents which are not subject to exemptions contained in the Act. When denying access to documents, agencies must give reasons. Appendix D lists the exemption provisions cited by agencies when denying access.

3.5 Decision Makers

Initial decisions are made by authorised persons. Internal review decisions are made by other officers of the agencies who were not involved in the original decisions.

Appendix E lists each officer, their title and the number of decisions to grant access in full, grant access in part or deny access to documents. It also lists each internal review officer and the number of times original decisions were confirmed, varied or overturned.

3.6 Fees and Charges

In 2011-2012, an application fee (fee) of $24.40 was required under the Act when making an FOI request. Fees are waived or reduced where payment would cause hardship.

Access charges (charges) are payable when an access decision has been made. Charges relate to copies of documents, providing access in alternate forms, the supervision of access to documents, search costs and generating documents from electronic data. Charges must be waived where the applicant is impecunious and the request is for personal documents. The Act also provides for other circumstances where access charges are not payable.

<sup>1</sup> The data in this table is based on the number and type of decisions handed down by the Tribunal in 2011-2012, whether or not those decisions were as a result of appeals lodged in that year or previous years. This is necessary given the time that can often pass between an appeal being lodged, the mediation and other processes that can occur prior to a formal hearing, and a final decision being handed down by the Tribunal.

<sup>3</sup> 'VCAT confirmed agency decision' includes situations where a case was struck out, or the matter was dismissed.

<sup>4</sup> 'Other' includes cases that were withdrawn or settled prior to the VCAT hearing or not yet decided by the Tribunal.

<sup>1</sup> Some agencies show nil returns in respect of application fees, both collected and waived. This can happen where the FOI requests they received were either received in the previous reporting year or were transferred to the agency from another agency, in which case, the original agency would have received and reported the application fee.
